Ma Brahmacharini, venerated on the 2nd day of Navaratri is Devi Parvati in her young age, undergoing tapas in order to reunite with Bhagavan Shiva. Maa Brahmacharini is also called with the name Tapah charini, the one who dedicated herself in tapa. Her hands hold the Akshamala (Prayer beads) in and a Kamandalam (water pot for rituals) in her left hand.

Maa Brahmacharini Devi Durga Mandir is located at Panchganga Ghat, Ghasi Tola, Varanasi, India.
